HOUSE IN FAVOR OF TARIFF BOARD

Measure Passed After Warm Fight Lasting Until Almost Midnight

PROVED A VICTORY FOR TAFT

Considered Matter for Over Seven Hours on Special Rule—Efforts of Democrats Feature—Debate Occupied Time.

Washington, Jan. 30.—After considering the matter for more than seven hours under a special rule, the House of Representatives at 11:40 o'clock tonight by a vote of 186 to 93 passed the bill providing for a permanent tariff board of five members. This is the first of the legislation recommended by President Taft to be adopted in the House this session.

The Democrats split on the passage of the bill, and although Champ Clark, the minority leader, voted for the measure, 90 of his followers were recorded against it. The others who voted in the negative were scattering Republicans. The Democrats voted together on various amendments to the bill, but in each instance they were defeated and the bill was put through in exactly the shape that it came from the committee. The insurgent Republicans voted with the regulars of their party in opposition to the Democratic amendment and on the final passage of the bill.

Much of the time given to the consideration of the bill was taken up by the Democrats in their efforts to amend the measure. Several roll calls were demanded and for a time it seemed that a filibuster might be inaugurated, but an agreement to end the debate at 11 o'clock was finally adopted.

Among the Democrats who voted for the bill were Brantley, Georgia; Burleson, Texas; Byrne, Tennessee; Cantrill, Kentucky; Clark, Missouri; Hardy, Texas; Howard, Georgia; Humphreys, Mississippi; Maynard, Virginia; Padgett, Tennessee; Pou, North Carolina; Pujo, Louisiana; Randell, Texas; Underwood, Alabama; Wickliffe, Louisiana.

The bill creates a permanent tariff board in lieu of the present board, which is a creature of a provision of the sundry civil appropriation bill and which will expire by its own limitation on the 30th of June, next.

The board is to consist of five members not more than three of whom shall be of the same political party. The term of office shall be six years each and those first appointed shall be for terms of two, three, four, five and six respectively to be designated by the President.

The salaries of the members are $7,500 annually for the chairman, who is to be designated by the President and $7,000 each for the other members. The board is to have its principal office in Washington, and is empowered to sit in any other place in the United States or in foreign countries.

General debate on the rule and subsequently on the bill itself soon developed a decided difference of opinion on the Democratic side, although the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee had voted with the Republicans in reporting it.

Representative Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, and Chairman Payne, of the Ways and Means Committee, explained briefly the provisions of the measure.

Some questions arose as to who should be in charge of the Democratic time during general debate—whether it should be a Democrat in favor of the bill or one opposed to it. This set some of the Republicans to laughing.

"I hope," said Mr. Payne, that the gentlemen on the other side, whoever they are, can get together on some gentleman in whom they have confidence."

Champ Clark, who already had indicated that he favored the bill, was on his feet in a flash.

A little more of that kind of 'gab' on your side," he retorted, hotly, "and your bill is dead!"

"Kill it! Kill it!" shouted a dozen Democrats.

It finally was agreed that Mr. Payne of New York, and Mr. Harrison, of New York, should control the time, the latter in opposition.

After Mr. Payne had earnestly urged the passage of the bill, Mr. Clark took the floor.

"For some time," he said, "there has been a proposition pending in the United States, in a sort of nebulous way, for a tariff commission; that is, an institution intended to undertake to fix rates. I was opposed to that last year, and I am opposed to that this year, because it is idiotic. It is idiotic, because the constitution of the United States absolutely precludes such a performance."

The proposition for a tariff board has been so amended in this pending bill that the board shall report to the Senate, or report to the President, or report to the House. On the motion of the Democrats in the committee it was provided so that the House shall be competent or able to direct the subjects that this board shall investigate. That makes an entirely different situation. I voted for that bill in the committee,

STILL DEADLOCKED AT ALBANY

Settlement of Senatorship Contest Seems as Hopeless as Ever—Roosevelt and Murphy Have Conference.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 30.—The Democratic organization behind Sheehan held its first conference with the "insurgents" tonight, but without making appreciable progress toward settling the deadlock over the election of a United States Senator.

Senator Franklin D. Roosevelt, the insurgent leader, spent more than an hour with Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, and the fact that they had discussed the senatorship question, was regarded as an encouraging omen by those who hope for a radical change in the situation. Heretofore each side has remained aloof.

When asked what passed between them, Senator Roosevelt declined to give details. He admitted, however, that they discussed the deadlock, but said that nothing happened during the conference to altar his views or plans. He added:

"So far as I am concerned the situation is right where it was; and I am in a position to say that all the others who have been with me on this proposition entertain the same view."

Earlier in the day both Mr. Murphy and Senator Roosevelt called on Governor Dix separately. From an insurgent source it was learned that the Senator told the Governor he was informed that the Sheehan men were exerting tremendous pressure to extract from the Governor some public statement that would aid their campaign. Senator Roosevelt told him, it was said that even if he issued such a statement it would change no votes; that the insurgents had agreed to stand firm against Sheehan notwithstanding anything the Governor might say.

News of the Roosevelt-Murphy conference caused considerable excitement tonight but did not change the general impression that there would be no break in the deadlock tomorrow and perhaps not this week.

The eleventh joint ballot today showed no significant change in the line up. There were 43 absentees, but the House leaders said tonight that they expected practically a full attendance tomorrow.

FOR THE NEW TRAIN.

Pender Citizens Endorse Movement For New Service.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Point, Jan. 30.—A petition is being numerously signed to the Corporation Commission for an additional passenger train from Goldsboro to Wilmington, a continuation of the Norfolk Shoo-Fly train. The service would not only be of great benefit to the "drummer trade," but would greatly help the business men, the farmers and every class. They could leave on the 4 A. M. train and get home before breakfast time, and early enough to do a day's work. They could go all the way to Goldsboro, giving several hours in Raleigh, Greensboro, Kinston or Wilson, returning the same evening. And in emergency cases five hours could be saved, which sometimes amounts to a great deal. Finally, the more trains, the more travel; the more travel, the more traffic; the more traffic, the more trade in supplies for local hotels, whereby both producer and consumer are materially benefitted. Lastly, but not leastly, the Raleigh and Greensboro daily papers reach this section before those from Wilmington, and in Wilmington's immediate territory too. Things ought not so to be.

MARKED DECREASE IN BANK DEPOSITS

TREASURY OFFICIALS DISAGREE

Washington, Jan. 30.—Deposits of individuals in the 7,200 National banks of the United States decreased $191,566,488 between November and January—a situation probably unprecedented in the reports made to the Comptroller of the Currency.

Of that sum more than $158,000,000 was withdrawn from the 39 National banks of New York. No two officials of the Treasury agree as to where the money went. Some are of the opinion that part of the money might have gone to strengthen the New York State banks and trust companies during the flurry caused by the so-called Robin failure early in the month. Others think the huge withdrawals represented interest payments piled up in anticipation of the January dividend days. A comparison with the National banks of Chicago shows that the drop was confined almost entirely to New York City. The eleven Chicago banks reported a loss of about $9,000,000 in individual deposits. The reserve banks of the Western and Pacific States and the New England States all show losses, but comparatively small ones. The unexpected call on January served to show the condition of the banks at a new angle. Not once before since 1879 have they been called upon so early in the year. Some officials think if the call had been made as usual, late in the month, or early in February, the money, if it were withdrawn for dividend payments, would have found its way into the banks again. One peculiar aspect of the drop was that the New York banks alone lost as much as the combined banks of the country had gained in November.

Another feature of the situation which greatly puzzles the treasury experts is that in spite of the enormous slump in deposits the banks are still holding a higher percentage of reserve than they were in November and the total loss in loans and discounts of the whole country has been only $48,000,000, while there has been a gain in cash of more than $20,000,000. The banks of the South are about the only ones showing gains of deposits.

That is said to be because they are now being paid for cotton. Reductions of loans is the rule, however, all over the country, and this is said necessarily to follow such a sharp reduction of deposits.

Still, with all the reduction, the banks are now holding $86,000,000 more in their reserves than is required by law. On the whole, the showing is pronounced good, but the disappearance of $158,000,000 from the banks of New York is a great puzzle to treasury officials.

JUSTICE WHITE INVITED.

North Carolina Bar Association Wants Him—Called Yesterday.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—A delegation of the North Carolina Bar Association comprised of Chas. W. Tillett, of Charlotte; Col. Harry S. Skinner, of Greenville; Thos. Rollins, of Asheville, and Thos. W. Davis, of Wilmington, came here today to invite Chief Justice White to address the State Bar Association at its annual meeting to be held some time during the Summer.

Mr. White told the committee he appreciated the invitation and would like to visit the State, but for the fact that he had just refused to accept similar invitations from Georgia and Tennessee. Since Justice White's elevation to the Chief Justiceship, he has been swamped with invitations to make speeches in Southern States.

"If I accepted half the invitations I have received in the past two months, we would have to close up the court room," said Mr. White.

Representatives Godwin, Page, Webb, Thomas, Small, Pou and Kitchin and Senators Simmons and Overman escorted the delegation to the private office of the Chief Justice.

Mrs. John H. Small and daughters, Misses Mary Belle and Katherine, arrived here today to spend the remainder of the session with Representative Small. They will make their home at the Dewey.

SECURE SOUTHERN PITCHERS.

Two Signed With New York American Club.

New York, Jan. 30.—The New York American League Club today received the signed contracts of Pitchers Harry Ables, who was with San Antonio last year, and of R. H. Revelle last year with Richmond, Va.

Ables is a southpaw and led the Texas league pitchers in strike outs last season, while Revelle, a right hander, held the record in the Virginia league for shut-out games.

TERMINALS ARE IMPORTANT

River and Harbor Work Ultimately Dependent Upon State and Municipal Action—Commission of Corporations.

(Special Star Correspondenne. .

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—"For years it has been apparent to the friends of improved waterways that unless terminals were secured by either municipality or State that the improvements of our rivers and harbors would proceed in anything but an expeditious and satisfactory manner," said Col. John L. Vance, president of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association, who is in Washington carefully looking after the river and harbor bill to the end that nothing shall go into the bill that might jeopardize its passage and its approval by the President.

"So important has this subject become that Herbert Knox Smith, Commissioner of Corporations, has made an exhaustive study of the subject and in a succinct statement of the question gave it as his opinion that terminals were as important as channels; that localities should as a rule be required to furnish and maintain adequate terminals.

"Equally as pronounced on this subject are two views of President Taft, who, in his address before the last convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, maintained that the improvement of our great watercourses depends in the final analysis on what the people do toward securing free and untrammeled terminals. He was equally pronounced in an exhaustive address made in Cincinnati last September. No less emphatic on this subject have been the utterances of Col. Alexander, chairman of the Rivers and Harbors Committee of the House, and Senator Burton, for many years chairman of the same committee and now a member of the Commerce Committee of the upper branch of Congress.

"The agitation which has been going on for free terminals for a decade or more I am pleased to say is bearing fruit and I look for greater benefits along these lines in the future. New Orleans practically owns its entire water front. St. Louis has seven miles of public wharves. Louisville has ample public wharfage for all demands that may arise, while many other cities and towns along the Ohio are the owners of extensive wharves and other municipalities are acquiring them. Trenton, N. J., has just obtained a considerable space in order to aid its river in the solution of the great problem of transportation. Now comes Cincinnati which has taken a great step forward through the recent decision of Judge A. M. Warner, of the Court of Insolvency, in the case of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company against the city of Cincinnati, in which the railroad sought to build an elevated track across the only public landing in that city, thereby cutting off free access to and from the Ohio. The decision which was against the railroad has attracted widespread and favorable comment in Congress and throughout the country.

"In the exhaustive brief filed by Mr. Albert Bettinger, of counsel for the city as well as river interests, the whole range of municipal terminals was discussed in a most scholarly and convincing manner.

"Judge Warner's decision went to the crux of the situation. He held that to permit the railroad to build the viaduct desired would result in practically blocking the terminal to river traffic. And he further said that 'the dams now completed and those being constructed in the river to make it continuously navigable the year round will doubtless largely increase the traffic thereon and make the public landing at its best barely adequate to meet the demands that may be put upon it. To cripple its use even in a small degree under these circumstances would be serious and unreasonable.'

"The decision is a magnificent victory for the business men of Cincinnati who fought the proposed viaduct across the landing and recognizes and confirms their argument that to put the viaduct across the landing would defeat the benefits to be gained from the nine-foot stage of water in the Ohio river.

"Opinions of this character which are along the lines of public policy will go far toward bringing about what is so greatly desired, municipal ownership or control of terminals which shall be open to the rich and the poor, the powerful corporation or its weaker competitor."

HAD TO DESCEND IN WATER

Covered a Distance Close to 100 Miles. Was Within Few Miles of the Goal—A Record Flight Was Made.

Havana, Jan. 30.—J. A. D. McCurdy, a Canadian by birth, but now affiliated with American aviators, set a new record today in over-the-water flights, covering a distance of close to 100 miles, from Key West to within ten miles of Havana, when, from a slight accident, he was compelled to drop into the sea. There he remained, his biplane floated by pontoons, until the life boat of the torpedo boat destroyer Terry picked him up.

With victory within his grasp, his goal in plain view, an accident, trivial in itself for which no provision was possible, robbed McCurdy of his almost won title of conquerer of the Florida straits. With Morro Castle scarce a dozen miles away, his aeroplane rushing at the rate of fifty miles at an altitude of 1,000 feet, a break in a small part of the engine, ruptured the crank case, permitting the escape of the lubricating oil, which necessitated McCurdy's immediate descent. Havana was then in plain view and Camp Columbia, where the landing was to be made, was only a short distance beyond.

At the time of the descent the aeroplane was about equal distant from the Paulding and Terry, the leading ships, which were about ten miles apart. The intrepid aviator, when the sound of the engine told him something was wrong instantly shut off the power. He descended rapidly, swinging steadily to the water and alighting as gracefully as a gull with outspread wings. The pontoons proved abundantly buoyant, McCurdy not even wetting his feet.

The fall was seen by all the vessels of the squadron and they headed in the direction of the aeroplane at topmost speed. The Paulding and the Terry arriving almost at the same moment. Some difficulty was experienced in manouvering the destroyers alongside the air craft, but the aviator, sitting there apparently in contentment, assured the officers that he was perfectly safe and that there was no necessity for haste. The Terry's life boat took him off and finally he was taken aboard the Paulding, but the efforts to hoist the machine on the launching platform failed. Grappling irons were used and the aeroplane was hauled to the deck in a badly damaged condition.

While this work was going on the Cuban flagship, Hatusy, arrived from Havana carrying President Gomez and a party of friends. She ran alongside the Paulding, and the President shouted his congratulations on the pluck of the aviator and regret for his illfortune. After an hour's delay the squadron started for Havana, entering the harbor a few minutes after 1 o'clock amid the cheers of many thousands who continued to throng the sea wall long after the news of the accident was known.

McCurdy, landing from the Paulding, proceeded without change of clothing to the drill grounds at Camp Columbia, where he gave a magnificent exhibition of his skill, rising to an altitude of 1,200 feet and performing a variety of manouveres that were stratling to the Cubans.

The start from Key West was made at 7:32 Central time, which was 8:05 Havana time, and after making two circles, the aviator squared away on his course. Conditions were ideal, a faint wind, a cloudless azure sky and unrippled sapphire seas.

In speaking of the beauty of the scene, McCurdy declared this evening that he had never before experienced so wonderful sensation as when he rose a thousand feet and started on the trip, continuing, he said: "The accident only increased my earnest desire to effect the conquest of the Florida straits and I have the fullest confidence that I can do it. I do not know when I shall be able to make another attempt at the flight, but under such conditions as prevailed today, I am sure of success."

McCurdy was exactly two hours in the air, covering an estimated distance of about 96 miles. Besides breaking the over-sea record this is the first instance of an aeroplane flight entirely out of sight of land.

Disappointment was keen in Havana over the aviator's mishap. On the firing of three cannon at Cabanas, signalling the start, all business was suspended. The whole population thronged the Malecon driveway from Punta to San Lazaro. All the high roofs and the heights of Morro and Cabanas were crowded. At 1 o'clock it became known that McCurdy was drawing near, but still he could not be seen.

The excitement was intense. Then came a long ominous delay. A rumor started that McCurdy had been killed, but nothing was known in Havana until receipt of the Associated Press dispatch giving an account of the accident. McCurdy will remain here

HONORED M'KINLEY'S MEMORY

Notables Paid Tribute to Martyred President at Ohio Society's Annual Banquet—Taft Was Among the Speakers.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The last public utterances of President McKinley in favor of reciprocity, made the day before he was assassinated at Buffalo, were recalled tonight by President Taft in an address at the Ohio Society's anniversary banquet in commemoration of the McKinley birthday.

Many men associated with President McKinley in public office and prominent Ohioans were present. Justice Day, former Vice President Fairbanks and Senator Dick, of Ohio, were among the speakers.

President Taft eulogized the character of the martyred President, and paid a high tribute to his attitude on the commercial expansion of the country with particular reference to the declarations in favor of reciprocity generally made by President McKinley at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo.

"The broadening effect of the National responsibility McKinley had had to carry," said President Taft, "shows itself in no respect more conspicuously than in this change of view on his part in respect of a policy which he had always been the chief exponent. May we not hope that the change that he advocated may soon find expression in our National policy toward our good neighbor on the north, who has come half way to meet us? May the fragrance of his beloved memory lead those upon whom is the responsibility, and incline their minds and hearts to this end.

"The Canadian agreement, if confirmed by legislative action, will be a fitting close to a century's controversy and permanently establish good feeling and commercial union between kindred peoples. We shall find a rapidly increasing market for our numerous products among the people of our neighbor. We shall deepen and widen the sources of our food supply in territory close at hand.

"Our kinship, our common sympathies, our similar moral and social ideas, furnish the strongest reason for supporting this agreement.

"The last words of McKinley urge acceptance. I am proud as a son of Ohio to bring forward for approval and effective action a measure carrying out the policy which he proclaimed and made his own at the acme of his great career."

Associate Justice William R. Day, of the Supreme Court of the United States, who was Secretary of State under President McKinley, was toastmaster. He characterized President McKinley as a man who had "a disposition to preserve and an ability to improve."

Former Vice President Fairbanks spoke on "William McKinley, the Citizen."

"President McKinley," said Mr. Fairbanks, "stood for a high order of civic virtue, whether he was a practicing lawyer, Congressman, Governor, or President.

"Who among our great Americans occupied a more enviable position? His praise was upon every lip; sectional animosities among his countrymen had died away; there were prosperity and progress everywhere. He went forward step by step with patient unfaltering trust."

MISS ARNOLD STILL GONE.

Lakes in Central Park to be Dragged —Missing Fifty Days.

New York, Jan. 30.—Rumors as variable as the winds of March continued to surround the mysterious disappearance of Dorothy Arnold, now missing from her New York home for nearly fifty days. Tonight the case to all intents is where it was when counsel for the family first sought aid through publicity.

In sheer desperation the family has invoked the aid of the police to go over the confines of Central Park foot by foot and to drag the park lakes and ponds. This probably will be begun tomorrow. A report was current tonight that Miss Arnold, on the part of her disappearance, visited a steamship agency to procure literature relative to a cruise to the West Indies. The agency remembers seeing a girl similar to the picture of Miss Arnold, but the record show no reservation. Evidence that she called at this agency is apparently as strong as that she started to walk through Central Park. Yet the family, in the absence of other clues, has decided to institute the systematic search there, and, if nothing results, to search Bronx Park similarly.

CAPT. HAINS OUT OF ARMY.

Taft Accepts Resignation of Slayer of William Annis.

Washington, Jan. 30.—President Taft has accepted the resignation from the army of Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., coast artillery corps, effective January 28th. Captain Hains is serving a penitentiary sentence for the murder of William E. Annis, at Bay Ridge, N. Y., in 1909.

Congress recently passed an Act which took effect January 11th providing for the dropping from the military service of any officer who had been absent in prison for more than three months after final conviction by a civil court. By his resignation Hains has relieved the authorities from the necessity of applying this law to his case.

Deposits made with the Wilmington Savings & Trust Co., on or before Feb. 2nd will draw four months interest June 1st. **

STATE'S INTERESTS HAVE SUFFERED

Joint Resolution to Investigate Holdings in Several Enterprises

IN THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Ewart Trust Bill Unfavorably Reported—Regulation of Water Power Corporations—Change the Name of Croatans.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 30.—The House passed today a joint resolution by Senator Brown to investigate the Mattamuskeet R. R., Elkin & Alleghany, Statesville Air Line R. R., Wilkesboro-Jefferson Turnpike and other matters unfavorably reported by the State Board of Internal Improvements, ex-Judge Ewart declaring in the discussion that the State has evidently lost in the Mattamuskeet Railroad scheme alone $240,000.

The bill passed to allow Southport to subscribe to stock in the Southport, Wilmington & Southern R. R. Co.

The Ewart resolution for an investigation of the operation of trusts in North Carolina received an unfavorable report this afternoon at the hands of Judiciary Committee No. 1, of the House.

The Lemmond bill to regulate water power corporations generating electricity current or gas for motive power, was to have been argued this afternoon before the Judiciary Committee of the Senate, but it was postponed to Monday of next week to give time for parties from Wilmington and elsewhere to appear in opposition to the bill.

The committee names February 1st to hear argument on the bill to change the name of the Croatan Indian to the Cherokees of Eastern Carolina.

Representative Spainhour, in the House offered a resolution today to appoint a committee of five members to investigate the salaries and duties of clerks in the State offices and recommend reductions of salaries. It recites that clerks are receiving from $1,500 to $2,000, while teachers are being paid only $25 to $40 per month and many college professors only from $600 to $1,000 and demands a scaling that will put the clerks more on a parity with teachers of whom a far greater equipment is demanded. The resolution went to the Committee on Salaries and Fees.

A bill introduced by Judd, of Wake, provides that Raleigh be reimbursed the cost of the unsuccessful prosecution of the Standard Oil Co., for violating the State anti-trust law.

The Senate, during a 35-minutes' session today, received the bill by Senator Martin, of Buncombe, providing for the establishment of a teachers' training school in western North Carolina, carrying an appropriation of $25,000 for buildings and equipment, conditioned upon the county or community where located pledging a like amount. If appropriated $10,000 annually for its maintenance.

Senator Cobb, of Robeson, moved to postpone the special order for considering the bill establishing Hoke county from tomorrow at noon until Thursday, but his motion failed to carry.

The Quickel bill gets an unfavorable report from House Judiciary Committee No. 1. There will be a minority report. The bill is designed to enable employes of a railroad to recover damages in case of injury, although injured while on duty over the time above the 16-hour law, which now holds railroad companies and employes both guilty of a misdemeanor for overtime work. Mr. Quickel's bill exempts employes from the misdemeanor.

Rev. J. C. Woodson, representative from Cleveland, was taken violently sick in the State House today and is reported by his physicians to be a very ill man tonight. He has not been carried to the hospital.

Senate—Twenty-Seventh Day.

President Newland convened the Senate at 12 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Eubanks offering prayer.

Bills Ratified.

Make owners of dogs liable for damages in certain cases. Validate probate and registration of deeds and other conveyances. Authorize the commissioners of Hendersonville to issue bonds to pay floating indebtedness. Authorize levy of special tax by Brunswick. Amend the charter of Wilson. Starbuck, of Forsyth: Amend charter of Salem.

London, of Chatham: Codify the law regarding mental anguish suits.

Gardner, of Cleveland: Authorize commissioners of King's Mountain to pay off school debt.

Hoke County Special Order.

Senator Cobb, of Robeson, moved to postpone the special order for consideration of the bill establishing Hoke county from Tuesday at 12 o'clock until Thursday at noon, stating that he spent Sunday at home and his people are not ready for the consideration tomorrow. Senator McLaughlin, of Cumberland, stated that it had been agreed to take up the matter tomorrow and he saw no reason for postponing. Senator McDonald, of Moore, also opposed postponement, and Senator Cobb's motion was lost by a vote of 27 to 10.

Bills from the House.

Twenty-seven local bills were received from the House, and all were appropriately referred except the bill abolishing the police commission of Asheville, which by request of Senator Martin, of Buncombe, was placed on the calendar. It passed and was ordered enrolled for ratification.

Alamance Hunting Bill.

Senator Graham, for the conference committee appointed to agree on the bill to regulate hunting in Alamance county, reported an amendment, which was adopted, and the bill passed its readings, and was ordered enrolled for ratification.

Senator Anderson was added to the Committee on Revisal.

The Senate, at 21:35, adjourned until 11 o'clock Tuesday.

House—Twenty-Seventh Day.

Speaker Dowd convened the House at noon, prayer being offered by Rev. Mr. Farmer, of Raleigh.

Petitions Presented.

Kendrick: Against sale of near-beer.

Long: From citizens of Alamance, against sale of near-beer.

The report of the conference committee on the differences between the House and the Senate on the Alamance game bill was adopted, a compromise having been reached.

New Bills and Resolutions.

Spainhour: Resolution with reference to State employes. Provides that there be appointed a committee of five members to investigate the pay received by the clerks in the State offices and recommend such reductions as will put them on a more equitable basis, as compared with the teachers and college professors in the State. The resolution recites that whereas, public school teachers are receiving only from $25 to $40 per month and many college professors and instructors from $600 to $1,000 only, the "ordinary clerks" in the tate offices are receiving from $1,500 to $2,000, and pronounces this a gross injustice to tue public teaching profesison that has to have far greater preparation for service.

Judd: Authorize Raleigh to issue bonds for public improvements.

Kent: Confer police powers on deputy sheriffs and constables in certain townships in Caldwell.

Taylor, of Hartford: Regulate crop liens and chattel mortgages in Hertford.

Dillard, of Cherokee: Allow road bond issue for Murphy township.

Wall: Prohibit sale of merchandise in any State buildings or grounds on Sunday. (Amend at closing the refreshment stand in the rotunda of the Senate on Sundays, the stand being run only during the time the Assembly is in Raleigh.)

Long: Allow Person county to make a donation to the proposed Confederate monument.

Norman: Amend the law of 1907 relative to divorce.

Carr, of Duplin: Protect the forests in the State from fire.

Livingston: Allow the town of Tyron to sell school lot.

Witty: Prevent dumping saw dust in streams of Rockingham.

Kennedy: Repeal the 1907 stock law for Sampson county and provide for the sale of certain material.

Ramsey: Amend Revisal relative to hoisting engines used in mines.

Ewart: Tax dogs, magistrates and justices of the peace in Henderson county.

Ewart: Make justices of the peace in Henderson county subject to the county road law.

Amend law relating to executing titles to real estate by foreign executors. Amend law relating to testing the magnetic needle and chains. Amend charter of the Carolina & Tennessee Railroad Company. (Repeal charter unless certain road work is done by August, 1912.) Establish recorder's court in the town of Henderson. Amend Rule No. 97 of the Revisal relative to heirship of illegitimates.

Joint resolution regarding investigations suggested by the Governor with regard to the report of the Board of Internal Improvements. (Judge Ewart said the resolution ought to pass as it was evident from the report that the State had lost $240,000 in the Lake Mattamuskeet transaction alone.)

At 1:30 the House adjourned to meet at 10 o'clock Tuesday.

FUNERAL OF MR. BOATWRIGHT.

Services Held Yesterday Morning From St. James' Church.

The fuenral of Mr. J. Hal Boatwright, whose sad death occurred very suddenly last Friday evening, was held at 11 o'clock yesterday morning from St. James' Episcopal Church, in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and sympathizing friends, who gathered there to pay a last sad tribute of respect to the memory of one held in such high esteem and so greatly admired and beloved throughout the community by all within the circle of his acquaintance. The sad services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Milton, rector of the church, assisted by Rev. Thos. P. Noe, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd. Following the services the body was tenderly borne to Oakdale cemetery, where the interment took place. The many beautiful floral designs placed on the newly made mound bore silent testimony to the general high esteem in which Mr. Boatwright was held in the community. The pallbearers were: Honorary, Junius Davis, Esq., Messrs. R. H. Pickett and S. P. Collier; active, Messrs. J. V. Grainger, Sr., W. A. Wright, F. A. Lord, R. C. DeRosset, T. G. Empie and Ashley Curtis.

The vestries of St. James' church and of the Church of the Good Shepherd as well as the children of the Sunday School of the last named church, and members of Cape Fear Camp, Confederate Veterans, attended the funeral services in a body. In honor of Mr. Boatwright impressive memorial services were held at the Church of the Good Shepherd Sunday night. Mr. Boatwright was the superintendent of the Sunday School of the church for a number of years. Many talks were made at the service, the speakers attesting to the great worth of Mr. Boatwright and the great loss sustained in his passing.

Rev. G. A. Martin, Messrs. D. W. Davis, M. C. Guthrie, of Southport; J. F. Littleton, C. F. Williams, J. L. Williams, W. H. Yopp, S. A. Matthews, W. H. Bedon and W. G. T. Keen. Several musical selections were rendered by a selected orchestra composed of Messrs. J. E. Willson, J. W. Wormersley, Geo. L. Johnson and Robt. Morriss. Among the selections were: Overture, "Bridal Rose," "Great Divide" and "Hungarian Fantasa." Following the rendition of the musical selections and the addresses, the members repaired to the banquet hall, where a most enjoyable supper was served.

The Encampment is in splendid condition and its membership is increasing rapidly. A large number of new members have recently been admitted and a new club will be formed in a short time.

WILL BE KNOWN AS "OCEANIC."

Directors of Hotel Tarrymoore Decide to Change the Name.

At a meeting yesterday of the directors of the Tarrymoore Hotel Co., it was unanimously decided to recommend to the stockholders at their meeting Saturday of this week that the name of the hotel be changed to the "Oceanic" and that the name of the corporation be changed to the "Oceanic Hotel Company." The recommendation of the directors will very likely be adopted. The meeting was presided over by President Thos. H. Wright and Secretary and Treasurer B. O. Stone was at his post. The directors also discussed the plans for greatly improving the hotel. Plans have been drawn by Grossman & Mahler and have been accepted by the directors. The improvements will include a covered walkway from the hotel to the surburban line and the erection of a tower on the front of the building, this to extend about 20 feet above the top of the building. A number of other improvements will be made. The plans will be more fully discussed at the meeting of the stockholders Saturday.

AN IMPORTANT CONFERENCE.

Municipal Legislative Committee to Present Claims to Assembly.

Chairman M. J. Heyer and Mr. H. C. McQueen, of the Wilmington Board of Audit and Finance, expect to be in Raleigh tonight at 8 o'clock for the purpose of appearing with the legislative committee of the Carolina Municipal Association before the joint committee of the two houses of the General Assembly in regard to the rank discrimination perpetrated on the towns and cities of the State by the Revenue and Machinery Act. It will be recalled that the Municipal Association some time ago took exceptions to those sections of the Revenue and Machinery Act, which debarred a town or city from levying a tax on certain subjects of taxation which are entirely dependent upon the centres of population for their existence. The discrimination costs Wilmington between $3,500 and $4,000 a year and the legislative committee of the Municipal Association of which Capt. Jas. D. McNeill, of Fayetteville, is chairman, will endeavor to have the discrimination corrected in the Revenue and Machinery Act to be adopted at this session of the General Assembly.

I could not stoop or lift without enduring much misery and despite all my efforts, I was unable to find relief until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Bellamy's Drug Store. They entirely removed the aches and pains and I now have no cause for complaint."

BUT FEW CASES REMAIN.

Smallpox is Now Decidedly on the Wane in Wilmington, it is Said.

Dr. Joseph Akerman, city superintendent of health, made the gratifying announcement last night that there are now only 95 cases of smallpox under quarantine in the city of Wilmington, which will be welcome news throughout the city. There were 16 releases yesterday and only six new cases discovered. The number of cases has decreased in the past week about 100 per cent. Comparatively few more cases are expected to develop, as nearly everybody in Wilmington has been vaccinated. The officers have been over the territory once and served notice on those who have not been vaccinated that this important duty should be attended to within a given number of hours, and are now making their second round, to see if the instructions have been complied with. They are finding very few indeed who have not been vaccinated, and these are now hurrying to get certificates. Quite a number are being vaccinated in the health office every day, though nothing to compare with the number vaccinated daily up to about a week ago.

Mr. Dixon's Greatest Book

A Powerful Romance of American Life To-Day

The Root of Evil

By Thomas Dixon

In showing how James Stuart finds out what are really the best gifts of life, Mr. Dixon has told a story of surpassing realism and fundamental truth. For the woman of his story it is a struggle between love and the desire of luxury. It is a book for this time and this generation with its ideals of power and money-getting and it is unquestionably the best that Mr. Dixon has yet done.

AFFAIRS AT STATE CAPITAL

Raleigh Abandons Idea of Commission Form of Government—Uniform Bill of Lading—Mileage Book Nuisance.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 30.—It looks like Raleigh has about abandoned the idea of securing commission form of government from this Legislature, unless, possibly there is the enactment of the State-wide bill to allow cities and towns to adopt and change their charters at will subject to the approval of the Attorney General of the State as to constitutionality.

The aldermen are moving now through a legislative committee, to procure amendments to the present charter that will allow the election of aldermen by the voters of the city at large, two from each ward. The present system is for each ward to elect its own representatives on the Board of Aldermen. The aldermen are also planning to secure the right to issue street improvement bonds. Some want $150,000, others want $250,000 and the more progressive and daring in such matters are insisting that not less than $500,000 should be provided for the work during the next twe years.

The uniform bill of lading bill is to have its final hearing before the Judiciary Committee No. 2 Tuesday afternoon. This is the bill for which the banking interests of the State are making the principal fight and the railroads are strenuously opposing. It would make bills of lading for cotton absolutely negotiable paper that can be hypothecated by the holder at will, the carrier issuing it being liable for the cotton it represents and for any fraud that may be practiced in its issuance by an agent.

There will be a hearing by the Senate Committee on Railroads Tuesday afternon on the Baggett bill which proposes to force the railroad companies to pull mileage on the trains instead of requiring mileage tickets, by requiring all railroads that refuse this concession to sell tickets at a 2 cent rate instead of 2 1-2 cents allowed under the passenger rate act under which it is charged that the railroads have taken advantage of the State and the traveling public in exacting the mileage ticket "nuisance" as it is denominated. The railroad authorities are to be here in force for this hearing.

WHITEVILLE HAPPENINGS.

Pastor Granted Leave—Social Items—Other News Notes of Interest.

(Special Star Correspondence.

Whiteville, Jan. 30.—The Methodist church of Whiteville has granted a month's leave to Rev. D. C. Geddie, their pastor, who has been quite sick for some time. Mr. Geddie left on Monday for Fayetteville to spend the time with his brother.

Mr. Frank Covington, who for the past ten years has held a position with the Butters Lumber Co. of Boardman, has resigned and with his family has moved to Evergreen, where he will embark in the mercantile business. Mr. Roland McKellar will succeed Mr. Covington at Boardman.

The many friends of Mr. Joe Smith, one of Whiteville's leading citizens and business men, living near Elkton, will be pained to learn that he is critically ill with typhoid fever. A trained nurse and three doctors are in attendance on him. His family and friends are apprehensive of his condition.

General Manager Wright and Mrs. Wright, of Boardman, left this week for Raleigh, where they will visit their daughters, Misses Helen and Martha Wright, who are attending St. Mary's.

Mrs. Lena Carnes entertained in a charming and jovial manner the young people of Whiteville-Vineland, at an old-time candy pulling last week.

On Saturday evening Miss Maggie Dell Nance gave a birthday party to a number of her friends at home of her brother, Mr. Strange Nance. Refreshments and games combined made the time pass too swiftly.

Mrs. Seth L. Smith was the attractive hostess to a few young friends on Saturday evening, when she entertained in honor of her two charming house guests, Miss Maide Wooten, of Chadbourn, and Miss Lillie Colvin, of Wilmington.

The young people of Whiteville are looking forward with a great deal of pleasure and interest to a minstrel which will be given by Miss Mary Pitts for the benefit of the piano fund. A number of young people of the town will take part, which includes some of the best amateur talent in the State. Those in a position to know say it will be the best attraction ever given in Whiteville.

The new presiding elder of the Wilmington district, will hold the first quarterly conference for the Mt. Tabor charge at Lebanon, on Saturday, before the first Sunday in February. The new Methodist church at Tabor is moving on nicely. They are expecting a revival to begin at the Methodist church, conducted by Rev. E. C. Glenn and wife, of Greensboro.

Wadesboro, N. C., Jan. 29.—Manager Rogers, of the local plant of the Southern Cotton Oil Co., is facing a shortage of labor to operate the fertilizer mixing department of the plant. Orders are coming in much more rapidly than at the opening of last season and he is doing everything possible to secure sufficient labor to fill them. The rapid growth of the town and the many varied improvements under way call for more labor than the local supply.

BIG FIRE AT LUMBERTON, N. C.

Stables of W. I. Linkhaw Destroyed Early Yesterday Morning With Much Live Stock and Vehicles—Church.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., Jan. 30.—About 6:30 o'clock this morning the sales stables of Mr. W. I. Linkhaw were destroyed by fire together with ten mules and two buggy horses, one of which belonged to Mr. W. O. Thompson. Besides the live stock, 25 new buggies, 15 new farm wagons, 45 sets and much extra harness were consumed.

When the fire was discovered it had gained such headway that all that could be done was to save nearby property While the stables were burning the residences of Messrs. C. B. Redmond, H. C. Freeman, the Presbyterian church, the Bottling Works, Deese Bros.' stables and B E. Edwards' shoe shop, all caught on fire but were saved. The origin of the fire is a mystery. When discovered it was burning furiously inside and all the doors were fastened. Mr. Linkhaw would never allow anyone to go in the stables after dark or before daylight, and would allow no matches about the place except some which were kept in the safe, and these were found in the safe after the fire. The cries and moans of the helpless animals as they were being roasted alive were appalling.

Mr. Linkhaw will continue in business, having arranged with the Morrison Live Stock Co., to conduct his business at their place until he can rebuild, which he will do as soon as possible.

The loss is estimated at $10,000 to $12,000 with $4,500 insurance. The damage to the church caused more by water than fire, is covered by insurance.

ANTI-VACCINATIONISTS.

Durham Excited Over Compulsory Order—Mass Meeting.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Durham, N. C., Jan. 30.—The court house was packed at a mass meeting of citizens of Durham tonight by the anti-vaccinationists. Major Graham was elected chairman and accepted in a lengthy speech in favor of vaccination which was received coldly. Attorney Bramham next spoke in strong language against compulsory vaccination, emphasizing the fact tha he was opposed not so much to vaccination as to its being made compulsory. Following Mr. Bramham, Alderman Carpenter said that he went before Mayor Griswold personally Saturday and got his promise not to call the meeting of the Aldermen until after the mass meeting tonight. In spite of his promise and in the face of the mass meeting tonight, Mayor Griswold called a meeting of the aldermen together since 12 o'clock today and discussed the matter. At their meeting five of the aldermen voted to sustain the Board of Health in their order of compulsory vaccination, and besides voted $2,000 to help carry out the orders. Mr. Carpenter called over the names of the five men who voted this way and the other three members who voted against it. be being one of the three. After his speech he offered some resolutions which were passed unanimously with but four dissenting votes.

An amendment was offered to his resolutions to the effect that Mayor Griswold and the five aldermen who voted in favor of sustaining the Board of Health be requested to resign. This passed overwhelmingly, there being but three dissenting votes. A committee of three members of the mass meeting was appointed to select 25 citizens to present the resolution to the Board of Health tomorrow night. Excitement ran high and almost any motion could have been passed by the crowd present.

The millinery offerings this week are little short of amazing at Rehder's 10-Day Sale. **

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies have done for me. For two years I suffered. The doctors said I had tumors, and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. Your Liver Pills have no equal as a cathartic. Any one wishing proof of what your medicines have done for me can get it from any druggist or by writing to me. THE MORNING STAR

Published by the WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC., Wilmington, N. C.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 60 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Tuesday, January 31, 1911.

Now, all pull together for the very best commission form of government possible. The need is here; the way is clear.

A boy wrote in his composition: "Hogs have four legs and each hog roots for himself." This is as far as the boy's observation now goes. Later in life he will recognize the two-legged variety with the same instinct.

Instead of naming those two proposed counties "North Robeson" and "South Robeson," why not christen them Culloden and Lochiel so the Scotch traditions may be perpetuated and a generous rivalry be ensured?

A contemporary remarks: "Many Americans descended from noble ancestors." However, that is no reason they should keep right on descending from them. People who deserve the most credit are those who are the ascenders of their ancestors.

"The Come Home Call" will not secure many back-homers if the old cow trails haven't been changed into good roads and unless we keep "Old Mooly" in a pasture instead of building a $500 fence so she can take to the woods and get the cattle-tick fever.

Responsibility for this is fixed on the Norfolk Landmark: "That New York woman who has undertaken to eat a squab a day for 30 days will be a 'bird' should she get away with the undertaking." Even if she doesn't she may already be ranked with the high flyers.

We can more than ever recognize the importance of Col. J. Pierpont Morgan since we note that when he loans money to some scrap of a republic in Central America he requires Uncle Sam to go on its bond. The cinch which some people have, surely takes the cake.

Those citizens of Adams county, Ohio who sold their vote for $6, were $5.90 better off, and then some, than the old timers who ambled to the polls under the influence of a drink of liquor. The principle is the same, but the considerations are on a somewhat increased difference in scale.

Says the Richmond News Leader: "An editor down East has started things by discussing which of Adam's ribs was taken to make over into Eve. A spare rib, of course." Nevertheless, Father Adam finally acted like he had lost his backbone instead of a rib. He started all this thing of leaving the women to take the blame.

Senator Stevenson, of Wisconsin, who furnished the White House with a fine cow and has the honor of being one of President Taft's personal friends, admits spending $107,000 to secure his election to the United States Senate. He claims that his expenses were "ligitimate," and that proves that he is satisfied with the leg-pulling indulged in by Wisconsinners, who wanted to make something while helping him to gratify his lofty ambition.

Editor R. B. Branch, of the Red Springs Citizen, is getting out a "trade and industrial edition," to contain articles descriptive of home enterprises and to give publicity to the advantages of Red Springs. "The big issue," says the Citizen, "promises to be a great success." The Star hopes it will be a success in every way, and it will be, if the live people of Red Springs back up Editor Branch in his public-spirited work in behalf of the town.

BACK HOMERS AND STAY HOMERS.

What's the use to invite people to "come back home" if we are not prepared to entertain and hold them if tney should come? In counties which are not progressive the prevalent conditions are little different from the same which caused many a young man to pull up his pegs and go where there was something doing.

A North Carolinian who strayed away from home years ago is hardly expected to leave a country with good roads to return to his native heath with the same old conditions of his boyhood days.

Back-homers who have been away and seen how progressive people live and do things would not think of returning to the grotesquely primitive conditions existing in some counties in eastern North Carolina.

We are for the "back home" movement, but we are not for it till we can display enough progress to astonish home-comers instead of disgusting them with conditions contemporaneous with Noah and the Flood. We ought to set our "old counties" in order before some stray North Carolinian, who has been away and seen something, lands in our midst and gives us the "horse laugh" for inveigling him back to the same surroundings that drove him away.

If our backward counties do not get in touch with the march of progress they will continue to be backward. There will not only be no "back homers" but instead there will be more and more home leavers. The young men who expect to make headway in life or "expect to be something" will continue to seek other climes just so long as mossbackism and primitiveness hold sway. Nobody can blame them for going where opportunities are better and conditions are more inviting. We stand first for keeping the boys at home and then to invite the estrays to come on back and see what we are doing and be brought face to face with opportunities and advantages that are worth their attention.

When we have good roads and the stock law throughout eastern North Carolina we can entertain either back-homers or newcomers, but until we do we are wasting our time to invite them. Recently some Northerners came here to buy lands in an adjoining county, but when they ascertained there was no stock law in the county they wouldn't go to look at the lands. They didn't even mind building their own roads, but they wouldn't think of going to the expense of building fences and keeping them up indefinitely to fence out cattle running at large. The fence would cost more than all the cattle in the township.

The trouble with the progress of some counties is that they are standing in their way. They can never hope to invite new-comers or back-homers until the stumbling blocks are removed. They cannot make progress themselves over the same stumbling blocks and certainly outsiders are not going to permit the hobble to be put on them. Let us get rigth and then go ahead. When we do something to make stay-homers we can confidently cast out our net for home-comers and new-comers.

THE EVOLUTION OF PROBLEMS.

When a condition becomes a problem affecting the people of an entire State, it ceases to be local. It becomes a state-wide question and gets beyond the pale of "local self-government." A State's interests are greater and broader than those of any locality, and it is no violation of the live principle of "local self-government" when it ceases to be applied to a condition or problem which affects all the people of the State.

Some questions so broaden that they work themselves out of the class which is contemplated under the principle of "local self-government" and it is well to emphasize the fact that such a high principle was never intended to be made a fetish for the purpose opposing reforms and movements which obviously are state-wide in purpose and effect and not local under any circumstances whatsoever.

The whiskey problem broadened into one affecting all the people of the State and hence it is not even remotely a question of "local self-government," any more than is any other question affecting the morality or well being of society in general. John Motley Morehead and Marion Butler didn't recognize where the limitations came in and were unable to mark the fine line between a distinction and a difference. Hence they led the Republican party into a ridiculous position during the last campaign and subjected it to being unmasked as an ass wearing a lion's skin.

"What's that got to do with the fence law?" is an old interrogation that might be sprung on us for going back to ancient history, but, just as prohibition broadened into a state-wide proposition, the fence question has done the same. The stock law lags on the outside yet, but there is no reason why it should. When progressive counties lead the way, others should be compelled to follow suit, so there wont have to be any "county fence" marking the dividing line between one kind of people who are up-to-date and another kind who are behind the times.

Gee! but the "county fence" surely tells the tale on the county which has been fenced on the outside! Why doesn't the Legislature pass a state-wide "no fence" law and thus drag unprogressive counties into a line of progress which they can't see because they are so far behind the times?

When problems grow they cease to be local. Evolution goes on in problems and movements among mankind just as it has done and is today doing in the material construction of the world.

METHODICAL STREET WORK.

The Star confesses to sympathy with the earnest complaint of "Resident," who so pungently emphasized the neglect of Walnut street, as to improvements, in a communication which appeared in the Star a few days ago. The people who reside on the part of the thoroughfare complained of have been long suffering. "Resident" brought in a true bill and certainly it is a most reasonable request that Walnut street should be remembered by the Street Commission.

It should not be so that it requires a communication to the press to call attention to the needs of the streets. It serves to emphasize the need of some kind of methodical, comprehensive and intelligent observation in connection with street work.

Street work and improvements should not only be done properly and at the right time, but attention should be paid to the actual needs of the streets in special cases. There should be some intelligent way of observing the needs of the streets in every portion of the city, and their condition should at all times be well known to the street department officials. Some sort of systematic and practical observation should be taken, and memoranda entered so that no quarter of the city should be neglected while others receive more than their share of attention.

The Street Commission has a big work ahead of it and we have no doubt it will make a revolution in the streets of Wilmington as soon as it gets to spending its proportion of the $900,000 voted by the city for water, sewerage and streets. That is a big sum of money and it is evidence that Wilmington has taken effective steps for modern improvements on a large scale.

The waterworks have been rebuilt, enlarged and made modern, the sewerage system is to be extended, and then permanent street construction will go apace. In the meantime emergency cases like that complained of by "Resident" should have some attention given to them.

Do not let us get too gay overe those new county propositions before the General Assembly. They are making and unmaking politicians of county size.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Wilmington Morning Star prints an editorial article more than a column long in denunciation of the flea, but doesn't seem to put its finger on him.—Columbia State.

"What use is the flea?" asks the Wilmington Star. David Harum says a reasonable number is good for a dog, in that it keeps him from brooding over the fact that he is a dog. A flea working on a man keeps the man's mind off of more serious troubles.—Petersburg Index-Appeal.

"Interference," observes the Philadelphia Evening Times, "in the latest Central American disturbance would hold a stronger tinge of altruism were it not so inextricably entangled with a familiar phenomenon of 'high finance'." The key to which somewhat Delphic utterance is that "on the crushing of this particular revolt depends the negotiation of a $10,000,000 private American loan, payment of which by Honduras this country incidentally guarantees. — Richmond News-Leader.

"Shall men have the commission plan of government in their homes?" inquires some busybody. Well, we should say not."—Wilmington Star. It is in operation already in nine out of ten households. The Mother is the mayor and holds the initiative and the veto power. The children are the Common Council. The Paterfamilias puts up the stuff to run the machine and has nothing to do with the laws except to bow to them. When women have vindicated their rights and abolished their wrongs, and have been admitted to an equal share in the duties and responsibilities of society, they will realize too late that they have chained themselves and emancipated the other sex from conditions closely approximating domestic servitude.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

President Rondthaler, of the Salem Academy and College, voiced a right sentiment in his response to the toast before the North Carolina Press Association during the banquet at the Zinzendorf Wednesday night. His subject was the education of women to fit them for the vocation they are to follow in after life. He stated, and truly, that women have a distinctive sphere to men, but that they are being taught from the same text books as the men. He declared that their education should be different, and ventured the prediction that all would live to see the time when girls will be educated in accordance with their necessities rather than forced into a kindred education with their brothers. President Rondthaler was particularly emphatic in the statements as to the spheres of the boys and girls and the necessity of giving them a different education. The Post can say amen to his propositions; and yet the present generation of women is responsible. Women are crowding into every place heretofore filled by men, and numbers are using the ballot. It is indeed time for a change in the education of women, for the home is the natural place for them.—Salisbury Post.

The Senate yesterday voted down the measure designed to tax dogs in this State, by a majority of six, and the dogs will still be allowed to run at large, killing sheep and goats, eating chickens and breaking up hen nests. Pray, what right has a dog to run at large more than cattle, sheep or hogs? If a dog is with his owner while on a hunt that is a different matter, but what right has the owner of a dog to allow his dog to run at large to the injury of his neighbor? Mr. Farrior, of this city, lost a fine lot of Angora goats from the incursion of a lot of dogs, and why should he have to suffer because someone wants to keep a rabbit dog around? People who own dogs should be required to keep them shut up when not accompanied by the owner, and if found running around loose any one should have the right to take up the dog and make the owner pay for his keep, just as the stock law provides. Either this, or the owner of sheel, goats or cattle should be reimbursed from a fund provided by the taxation of the dog, whenever loss is incurred. This is the law in Virginia. The editor of the Times is trying to encourage the rasing of sheep and goats, but what farmer will run the risk with a lot of dogs running wild over the country.—Wilson Times.

THE BARK OF A TOWN DOG.

How a Lady Correspondent Views "Growl of Old Towser."

Editor Star:—Permit me to supplement "The Growl of Old Towser" in the last edition of the Star with the Bark of the Town Dog.

Truly this is a Dog State—where the animal rules out industries, prosperity, comfort, health and life. While enlightened legislators strive to overcome ignorance and stubbornness in reference to the country dog, none have risen to defend the city resident from the injury of the town dog.

As the small boy usually prefaces his composition on this subject, "The dog is a very useful animal;" but he needs training, and a limited territory. Worthless curs, fine watchdogs and pets abound through the length and breadth of our city. Some sleeping all day, carouse out doors at night, as they give and take the salute of vagrant canines, passing by, or bay in solitude at the moon.

We see horses made skittish by snapping, snarling dogs at their heels, unchecked by admiring owners, in sight. A well deserved switching is called "cruelty," though lives have been endangered.

Families visit the beach, leaving a dog at home to howl till their return at midnight. A polite request to quiet these animals is generally disregarded or resented; for in the estimation of the owner, the beloved beast rates higher than suffering victims. There is no relief except to move from the neighborhood, with all the labor and expense that includes.

Every human being, especially the weary and ill, has an inalienable right to undisturbed sleep, at night; and it is neither Christian nor decent to allow selfishness to prevent it.

The best law to enforce is the GOLDEN RULE.

Wilmington, N. C., Jan. 30, 1911.

THIN FOLKS MADE PLUMP.

Samose Ideal Flesh Builder Says Druggist J. Hicks Bunting.

Thin people are simply suffering from want of nourishment!

If you are thin, it is because the food you eat is not assimilated and passes through the system without building up the flesh and tissue as it should.

You can readily get plump and rosy by using Samose, a tissue forming food which, when taken with the meals, immediately becomes a flesh building and life giving element in the blood.

Use Samose for a few days and increase of life, vigor and weight is felt and you will notice yourself getting plump and rosy.

Samose builds up the system, puts flesh on the bones, brings back the glow of health to the pallid cheek and removes the tired and languid feeling which is the result of exhaustion and low vitality.

J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. is introducing Samose to their customers and recommend it highly, they give the best proof of their belief that Samose will do all that is claimed for it by offering to refund the money if it fails to increase the weight and restore good health.

Appointment of Delegates to Southern Commercial Congress.

Fayetteville, N. C., Jan. 27.

Editors Wilmington Star:

Gents:—I have often noticed that when the "Powers That Be" have honors and favors to distribute, they forget our old town. When I read the list of gentlemen represented appointed to represent the State of North Carolina at the meeting of the Southern Commercial Congress at Atlanta in March, and noticed how the entire southern and eastern part of the State was ignored, I must canfess it made my blood hot.

Taking the line of the A. C. L. R. R. to Selma and Southern to Raleigh, and R. & G. to State Line; three men only on that whole line were chosen, viz: one at Clayton, two at Raleigh. The entire State east of those lines was ignored. The old-honored Eastern seaport cities of Wilmington, Newbern, Edenton and Elizabeth City, in fact, the entire seaboard of the State is not thought worthy of a representative; and much less the large interior towns of Washington, Plymouth, Greenville, Tarboro, Goldsboro, Wilson and Rocky Mount. It is commonly reported that Governor Kitchin wishes to be elected Senator. Does he expect the Republicans of the northern and Piedmont sections to elect him? The only names from south of the N. C. R. R. are Efird, of Albemarle, and Horne, of Clayton.

DAMAGING EVIDENCE GIVEN

Strong Chain of Circumstantial Evidence Being Woven About J. C. Holly, Charged With the Murder of Cromwell.

Damaging testimony was given by witnesses for the State in Superior Court yesterday in the case of J. C. Holly, ex-preacher and formerly proprietor of the Rock Springs Hotel, who is charged with the murder of young Edward Cromwell, an employe, who lost his life in the fire which gutted the building early on the morning of August 10th last.

The chain of circumstantial evidence to support the contention of the State that Cromwell was poisoned by Holly and afterwards the building was set on fire to cover the crime, the motive being to collect insurance to the amount of $2,500 on the boy's life, apparently has but one weak link, from the testimony of yesterday, and this is in regard to the motive, the defense bringing out the fact that Holly had not been notified officially that the application for assignment of the policy to him had been favorably acted upon by the insurance company and that the policy has never yet been received by Holly in its new form.

However, the State succeeded in showing by witnesses that the bedding in the lad's room had been saturated with kerosene; that groans were heard about 11:30 o'clock on the night of the fire and at the same time Holly was recognized by a peculiar snif of the nose; that he stated shortly after the fire that the noise heard was occasioned by one of his usual spells and that Cromwell was fanning him; that the chemical analysis of the contents of the boy's stomach revealed the presence of strychnine, one-fifth of a grain being found in the one-half of the stomach analyzed, which means that there must have been considerably more than double if death was caused by the poison as it would have had to be absorbed in the system to have effected this; also it was brought out that some one called Holly from the dining room about midnight, a few hours before the fire, which is said to have been rather unusual; besides, it was shown that a package was delivered to Holly on the night of the fire, which may or may not have had something to do with the alleged crime.

On the other hand, the State brought out from Dr. W. D. MacMillan, county superintendent of health, who performed the autopsy on the body of Cromwell, that in his opinion death was due entirely to suffocation; and, as stated above, it was not shown by the State that Holly had any knowledge of the return of the insurance policy properly assigned to him at the time of the fire. All of the witnesses for the State gave Holly a good character.

Judge R. B. Peebles, who is presiding, has been indisposed for two or three days on account of rheumatism in his right foot and is unable to bear any weight on it. He had to be carried to and from the court room and Sheriff Cowan's automobile was used to convey him from his hotel to the Court House and return.

The first of the morning session was devoted by the State to the examination of witnesses to support its contention that the building in which the fire occurred was constantly under guard from 4:30 o'clock on the morning of August 10th, when the fire department left the scene, until 9 or 10 o'clock the next day, when the mattress, sheets, handkerchiefs, piece of comfort on which the boy's head is said to have lain, etc., were removed and placed in the care and keeping of Capt. W. P. Monroe, assistant chief of the fire department. Fireman Alonzo J. Burriss, Asa J. Burriss, G. A. Smith and J. H. Litgen testified that they were on duty alternatively during this period and that no one entered the building except firemen and Mr. James Owen Reilly and Mr. Boatwright, insurance agents. It was necessary to show that the building had been guarded and that the opportunity was not given for any one to slip anything into the room No. 4, in which the body of Cromwell was found, in order to have admitted as evidence the articles said to have been taken from the room by the firemen and which were exhibited in the court room, fully identified by Capt. Monroe as the same taken from the burned hotel.

Chief Schnibben, of the fire department, who was on the stand Saturday, being recalled testified that he left the building at 4:30 o'clock on the morning of August 10th. On cross-examination of C. D. Weeks, Esq., for the defense, he said that considerable water was thrown on the bed in room No. 4 while the firemen were fighting the blaze; that the odor of kerosene could be detected early in the morning, but smelled more highly later in the day. Mr. Weeks asked the witness if it was an unusual thing for people to put oil on mattresses to keep the bed bugs away, to which the witness replied that he had heard of some people doing this, but he had no knowledge of it ever having been done. In reply to another question he said that the building was lighted by both electric lights and kerosene lamps; electric lights being used in the halls and in the sitting room, while oil lamps were found in most of the other rooms.

Fireman G. G. Smith, in his testimony, said that he was on duty as guard when a pocket handkerchief and a can, the contents of which had a peculiar odor, were found in room No. 4. On cross-examination, he said that the mattress was not removed from building until the 11th; that the odor of kerosene was very strong in the room; that he saw Mr. James Owen Reilly on the morning of the 10th take a piece of paper, rake it across the mattress and then strike a match to it, igniting instantly, although the paper had come in contact with the water on the mattress, this indicating strongly that there must have been oil, mixed in with the water.

When Fireman Litgen was called to testify that he went on duty on the morning of the 11th, at 7 A .M., relieving Fireman Burriss, counsel for the defense made the point that it was unnecessary to show that the building was guarded on the 11th as both Chief Schnibben and Assistant Chief Monroe had testified that the things—mattress, sheets, etc.,—were removed on the 10th. There was a brief halt while Judge Peebles read over the testimony of Capt. Monroe, as given at Saturday's session, and after reading this portion of the testimony the court allowed the witness to proceed. Fireman Burriss was again called to the stand to testify that Capt. Monroe was the person who removed the things from the building.

Capt. Monroe was recalled to the stand to corroborate the witness as to who was on duty when he removed the things from room No. 4 and also to exhibit and identify the articles, which he did. The articles had a highly offensive odor, so offensive in fact, that Juror Ramos found it necessary to place a handkerchief over his nose, the articles having been spread out directly in front of the jury box. Capt. Monroe said that the things had been in his possession in a room at fire headquarters ever since the fire; that is, ever since they were removed from the building.

The next witness was Mr. W. W. King, undertaker and embalmer, who removed the body of Cromwell from the hotel to his undertaking establishment. The defense objected to his answering a question from the solicitor as to where he got the body, but this was overruled by Judge Peebles. Mr. King said that he went to the hotel after the body in response to a call from Chief Schnibben. The witness saw Holly across the street at the time he went for the body and had a conversation with him. Holly told witness that the boy had been working for him and he wanted him to have a decent burial, and also said that he wanted him to take some papers and have the insurance men to come down and pass on the damages to the property. The bill for the burial expenses, said the witness, was made out against Holly and sent to him in the county jail. The bill was returned with the statement that Holly could not pay it then and the amount has never been settled, Mr. King testified. He said that he sent the body to the hospital for the autopsy to be performed and if his memory served him right the body was taken directly from the institution to the burial ground. The body was viewed by the coroner's jury while at his place. On cross-examination by Wm. J. Bellamy, Esq., the witness said that he had known Holly for some years and that his general character was good. Solicitor Shaw at this juncture asked witness if Holly was not a sort of a preacher, Quaker preacher, and witness said that he understood that he was a preacher and that it had been said that he claimed to be a Quaker preacher. Witness had never heard of him having regular preaching places. The witness said in reply to a question that he did not consider it anything against a man to be a preacher, but on the contrary he would feel highly honored to be able to fill such a place himself.

Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, who saw the body at the undertaker's, was the next witness. He testified that an autopsy was performed by Dr. W. D. MacMillan, county superintendent of health, and that the stomach and pieces of the liver and lungs were sent to a chemist at Raleigh for analysis, being taken there by Chief Schnibben, after they had been placed in a vessel and sealed in the presence of the coroner's jury. On cross-examination by Wm. J. Bellamy, Esq., Dr. Bell said that he knew it was the body of Cromwell only by what was said by those who identified it. He said that the general character of Holly was good up to the time he was arrested in connection with the death of the boy. Solicitor Shaw asked the witness if he had not heard that Holly had been accused of murdering his wife. The witness replied that he did not hear it until after this last affair. He was then asked by the solicitor if he had not heard that Holly was addicted to the use of dope? Judge Peebles sustained the objection of counsel for the defense and the question was not answered.

Dr. W. D. MacMillan, county superintendent of health, was next called to the stand. Dr. MacMillan told of the autopsy performed on a body said to have been that of Edward Cromwell. He said that the stomach was distented and the lungs congested; that there was an abrasion on the chin and evidences of burns or scalds on the left side from the knee to the scalp. The autopsy was performed about noon of the 10th of August and the contents of the stomach were delivered to the coroner's jury. On cross-examination the witness said he did not know of his own knowledge that the body was that of Cromwell. He said that clinching and contraction of the body usually accompany strychnine poisoning. Asked by Mr. Bellamy if in case of strychnine poison the body was drawn together backwards until the head and feet almost came together, Dr. MacMillan said that he had read of it, but never had seen anything of the kind, though there is a tendency to draw together backwards. The witness could not say whether the deceased died from poison or suffocation, but he was of the opinion that death was due to suffocation. Asked how much strychnine could be given to a person without harmful results and he said that it depended upon the age and condition of the person; ordinarily one-fifth of a grain is considered a dose.

Dr. Bell was recalled to testify as to the condition of the body when he viewed it. He said that the hair on the boy's head had not been burned nor had the clothes which he wore been scorched. The hands of the boy, he said, were drawn up on his breast, a little off from the body. There was very little distortion of the features. He had two or three marks about the forehead and a scratch on the cheek and an abrasion on the chin. His limbs were not in the placid condition usually found. Dr. Bell saw the body about 10 o'clock and at that time his opinion was that the boy's death was caused from suffocation, but later the rumors were circulated. He said that the distention and congestion of the lungs meant that the lad had breathed in something injurious.

Chief Chas. Schnibben was recalled and testified that he took the contents of the boy's stomach to Raleigh and turned it over to Prof. Withers, chemist at the A. & M. College, for analysis.

Dr. Withers was next called to the stand, but as it was near the dinner recess hour and the defense wanted time to summons a physician to hear his testimony, Judge Peebles respected their request that adjournment for dinner be taken so that they could have a physician present.

Afternoon Session.

Much better progress was made in the afternoon than at the morning session, the examination of the witnesses for the prosecution being nearly completed. The first witness in the afternoon was Mr. R. R. Bellamy, the well known druggist, who produced his books showing sales of strychnine to Holly. The last sale was made on August 3rd, 1910. On cross-examination Mr. Bellamy testified that various persons had bought strychnine from his store for various purposes, one to kill a horse, another to kill rats and still others to kill moles.

He was followed by one of the most material witnesses for the State, Prof. W. A. Withers, chemist at the A. & M. College, Raleigh, who made the chemical analysis of the contents of young Cromwell's stomach. His testimony was exhaustive and covered in detail the different processes required to properly make the analysis. He only analyzed approximately one-half of the contents of the stomach of Cromwell and in this he found one-fifth of a grain of strychnine. He estimated that in the entire stomach there must have been two-fifths of a grain and was certain that the entire amount would not vary more than five per cent. either way. He said that he made five very thorough tests and each one showed that it was strychnine taken from the stomach. He said that he purchased from a drug store some strychnine-nitrate and a test made with it produced the same results as that taken from the stomach of the young man. He could not say how long strychnine would remain in the stomach before being absorbed. On cross-examination he was asked why he did not examine the lungs and liver and he replied that he did not think it necessary since the analysis of a portion of the contents of the stomach revealed the poison. Dr. Withers told of the effect that strychnine taken from the stomach produced when placed on the back of a frog. The frog died within a half an hour of convulsions and after he was dead his hind legs were stretched out. This was one of the five tests applied by the chemist. Another was to bring a portion of the matter taken from the stomach in contact with certain chemicals, which produced different colors which could not have been produced by any other poison. First blue, then violet, then red and finally changing to yellow. Dr. Withers also testified that the chemicals and water used in making the analysis were free from strychnine.

Damaging Evidence.

Probably the most damaging evidence yet given against the defendant was the testimony of Mr. R. A. Matthews, formerly of Duplin county, who was a guest in the hotel on the night of the fire and who had stopped there frequently. His testimony, taken with that of the chemist, is especially strong against the defendant. Mr. Matthews told practically the same story as related by him before the coroner's jury, varying in none of the essential points. He said that he went to his room about 10 o'clock on the night preceding the fire and that he retired about 11 P. M., spending the hour in reading and writing; that a short time later, probably 11:20 P. M., he heard groans and a noise as if something falling; that he listened intently and heard some one talking low; presently he heard a peculiar sniffle of the nose which he recognized as Holly; that his first impulse was to get up and see what was the trouble, but on second thought he concluded that it was Holly and that he would call for him in case his services were needed; that the noise ceased in a short time and he dropped off to sleep again. About 2 A. M. he was awakened from his slumbers by a sound very much like the explosion of a lamp. He first thought it a continuance of the trouble he heard earlier in the night; he listened and presently he heard something like a fire when it is first kindled, but remembering that he building had stood for about 75 years he dissimsed the possibility of fire from his mind and was about to fall asleep again, when he heard a roaring that gave unmistakable evidence that the building was on fire. He got up, threw open the window and began to measure the distance to the ground. Realizing that the distance was too great for him to jump in safety, he began to gather up his things, hoping to escape through the hallway. The firemen arrived in the meantime and a ladder was placed at his window on which he descended to the ground. He was but scantly clad and went off from the building to put on his clothes. Returning to the building he saw Holly and asked him about the noise he heard about 11 o'clock that night. Holly replied that he had one of his usual bad spells and that the boy was fanning him. On cross-examination by Mr. Weeks, the witness was positive that Holly was the man whom he heard that night about 11:20 o'clock. The witness said that he had never been able to locate just where the noise was. He had known Holly for seven or eight years and had never heard anything against him before.

Mr. H. E. Robbins, local agent of the Greensboro Life Insurance Company, in which company Holly had secured the $2,500 insurance on the life of Cromwell, after having been turned down by the Life Insurance Company of Virginia on account of incomplete family history, was the next witness, the State seeking to show the motive for the crime through this feature. Mr. Robbins testified that the matter of issuing life insurance on the life of Edward Cromwell was first taken up with him by Mr. R. S. Register, of the Life Insurance Co., of Virginia, who stated that since the application was turned down by his company more complete data regarding the family history of the lad had been obtained and that there was a possibility of another company issuing the policy. The application, said the witness, was made June 20th, for insurance to the amount of $5,000, but his company would not give a policy for more than half the amount. Soon after the policy was received and at the time the premium of $58.28 was made to him by Holly in the presence of Mr. Register, who received a commission for securing the business, Holly inquired about having policy assigned to him, it having been payable to the estate of Cromwell. The witness told Holly at the time the necessary steps to be taken to secure the transfer, and soon thereafter Holly made the application for the assignment of the policy.

The witness also told of being at the Rock Springs Hotel on the night of the fire to pay to Miss Caudle, agent of a publishing house, the amount of subscription to a magazine; that he saw Jas. H. Scull, Esq., there at the time; that witness and Miss Caudle went to the Bijou together and upon their return to the hotel he (witness) went out and got some ice cream "in bulk." This was about 10 P. M. The witness saw Cromwell eating an ice cream cone, coming in from up town with it in his hands. He said that Cromwell did not eat any of the ice cream he purchased. The witness left the hotel shortly after 10 o'clock. He had not gone to his room when the fire bell sounded, having had some business up town, and was at the scene of the fire in a few minutes after the alarm. He accompanied Miss Caudle and Miss Elmore, who were guests at the hotel, to the Southern hotel right after the fire, the young ladies staying there the remainder of the night. The witness said that he had a short conversation with Mr. Butler, clerk at the hotel, and a friend by the name of Mr. Pridgen, after which, at about 3:15 A. M., he left for his home.

On cross-examination he said that he had known Holly for about eight years, that Holly had a life insurance policiy with a company he represented some time ago and that he went to see him about once a month to collect the premium. He said that Holly's character was good. He was asked by Mr. Bellamy if Holly did not say something about making preparations to educate Cromwell and that he intended to adopt him, so he could take care of him in his old age and that this was the reason he wanted the insurance, and the witness replied in the affirmative. In response to further questions from Mr. Bellamy, the witness said that he told Holly that the assignment papers would have to be sent to the home office and passed upon before they were effective; that the papers were never returned to Holly and that Holly never was informed officially that the policy had been transferred. With this the defense excused the witness, counsel feeling that they had secured a point in that the State had not stablished what it set out to prove by the witness, viz: that the motive for the crime was to collect the money on the insurance policy, as the evidence had sot disclosed the fact that Holly had been informed prior to the fire that the home office had passed favorably upon the application for assignement of the policy.

Mr. R. S. Register, agent for the Life Insurance Co., of Virgisia, was the next witness. He testified that in March, 1910, Holly made application in his company for $1,000 insurance on the life of Cromwell, but that the application was rejected on the ground that the data regarding the applicant's family was not regarded as being complete. The witness said that the insurance was not solicited, or rather that when one of his agents was at the hotel to collect the premium on a policy of Holly's mother, Holly mentioned the fact that he would like to have some insurance on Cromwell. Witness went to see Holly some days later and the application for the insurance was made. When witness went to inform Holly that the company had rejected the application, he learned some additional facts about Holly which caused him to believe that some one other company would write the insurance and he then got in touch with Mr. Robbins, of the Greensboro Life, with the result that application was made for insurance to the amount of $5,000. Witness was with Mr. Robbins when he turned the policy over to Holly, who inquired about having it assigned to him.

On cross-examination witness said that he had known Holly for four or five years and that his general character was good; that Holly had stated that he intended to educate the boy. Asked if there was anything unusual for a man to take out insurance policy on a boy's life and afterwards have the policy assigned to him, the witness answered in the negative.

The only other witness examined at the afternoon session was Miss Cora Caudle, of Yadkin county, at present a student at the State Normal and Industrial College, Greensboro, who was a guest at he hotel on the night of the fire, having been here for several days securing subscriptions to a magazine. She testified that she saw Holly and Messrs. Robbins and Scull at the hotel on the night of the fire; also saw Cromwell that night; that she ate some ice cream purchased either by Mr. Robbins or Mr. Scull, she did not remember who; that she went to the Bijou theatre with Mr. Robbins and upon their return they had the ice cream; that then Holly said he was going to the Bijou and went off with Cromwell; that Holly did not remain away long, returning to the hotel alone; later Cromwell came up eating an ice cream cone. Witness retired about 11 o'clock and some time later she heard some one calling Holly.

It seemed that the person calling was in the dining room. She said that Holly had $47 of her money and that when she was driven out of the house by the fire she asked Holly about her money and he said that it was safe; that two or three days later she got her money from Holly in jail; that Holly said that he had borrowed it, and that he had been waiting for her to come for it. Solicitor Shaw asked the witness if she saw any one else in the hotel that night and she said that some one came to the hotel that night and brought a package about 4x10 inches in size. On cross-examination she said that she had never heard any one call Holly that late at night before, and she had been staying there for two weeks. With the examination of Miss Caudle court took a recess until 9 o'clock this morning. It is thought that the State will conclude its testimony some time this morning.

EXTENDED EUROPEAN TOUR

Rev. A. W. Seabrease Resigns as Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, and Will Travel in Old Country for a Year.

Embracing an opportunity to make an extensive tour of Europe and Asia, covering a period of about 12 months, Rev. A. W. Seabrease, for seven years the beloved and esteemed rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, recently tendered his resignation, and left a few days ago to New York City, whence he will sail Saturday on this week on the steamship "Arabic" for the Old Country.

Rev. W. H. Meade, formerly rector of the Episcopal church at Chapel Hill, has been secured to supply the church as rector until a rector is called, and he will assume his new duties next Sunday.

Some weeks ago Mr. Seabrease announced to his church that he had decided to make an extended tour of Europe and Asia, and would be absent from the city for about a year, and would, therefore, tender his resignation as rector of the church. Realizing that persuasion would be of no avail, and having some idea of the delights of such a trip, the resignation was reluctantly accepted, and Mr. Seabrease began his preparations for the tour of the Old Country. His connection with St. Paul's church began about seven years ago, since which time he has served it most faithfully and acceptably as rector, and the church parts with him with much regret. Mr. Seabrease will be accompanied on his trip by Rev. R. W. Barber, rector of one of the Episcopal churches of Raleigh, who will join him in New York Saturday.

Dr. Meade, who comes to supply the church until a rector has been chosen, was for some years rector of the church at Chapel Hill, being succeeded there by Rev. R. W. Hogue, so greatly beloved and esteemed here, where he was rector of St. James' church. Dr. Meade is advancing in years, and since his rectorship at Chapel Hill, has been doing some mission work in the Church in this State at different points. He is now visiting relatives in Tennessee, and will come here from that State the latter part of the week and conduct the services at St. Paul's Sunday.

Capt. John H. Sharp, who is pleasantly remembered in Wilmington as a former resident and as treasurer of the Seaboard Air Line in the "palmiest days" of the system, is in the city for a few days and is being most pleasanly received by many of his old friends. Capt. Sharp has recently disopsed of his large land holdings in Vance county and it will be welcome news to Wilmingtonians that he is contemplating investing in New Hanover real estate.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Mr. Thos. H. Wright left last night for a business trip to New York City.

—Representative Woodus Kellum, who spent Saturday night and Sunday in the city, returned Sunday evening to Raleigh.

LOCAL DOTS.

—The German steamer Erika, Capt. Paulsen, which discharged fertilizer material here, cleared yesterday for Savannah for cargo for foreign export.

—Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: Matthew J. Heyer, trustee in bankruptcy, to P. D. Camp, of Franklin, Va., for $27,000, the tract of land of the Angola Lumber Co., and plant just above Hilton; Ruth E. Curtis to J. H. Curtis and wife, for $100 and other considerations, lot on east side of Fifth, 124 feet south of Wooster street, 48 1-2x134 feet in size.

—The feature of the regular weekly meeting yesterday morning of the Wilmington Ministerial Association was an address by Rev. G. T. Adams, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist church, on "Personal Work of the Minister." It is stated that the special committee appointed some time ago to consider recommendations on several propositions will make report at the next meeting.

—President Chas. N. Evans, of the Atlantic Trust & Banking Co., states and there is no truth in the report circulated yesterday to the effect that the institution is seeking to purchase a desirable site as a home for the bank; that the lease on the present building does not expire for five years yet and the institution will continue to occupy its present quarters. A proposition to sell the bank a site was made to the directors a few days ago, but they declined to consider it.

WAS FINED FOR CONTEMPT

Mr. Joseph N. Jacobi Required to Pay $20 and Costs for Alleged Interference With Officer Smith—His Answer.

After reading the answer of the respondent, Mr. Joseph N. Jacobi, to the rule issued Saturday afternoon, requiring him to show cause, if any, why he should not be attached for contempt of court for alleged interference with Deputy Sheriff J. W. Smith in his efforts to get service on Mr. D. W. Davis, a clerk in the store of the N. Jacobi Hardware Co., wanted as a juror to report in the Superior Court tomorrow, Judge R. B. Peebles yesterday afternoon ordered that Mr. Jacobi pay a fine of $20 and the costs.

Judge Peebles stated that Mr. Jacobi and all others must not interfere with the officers in the discharge of their duty. Bellamy & Bellamy represented Mr. Jacobi. The hearing was originally set for 1 o'clock at which hour Judge Peebles announced that inasmuch as the answer had not been filed he would continue the matter until later in the afternoon. The answer was filed a short time later and was read by Judge Peebles during the afternoon session, so when the hour for court to adjourn for the day arrived he was ready to take action in the matter. He first stated that he had decided to fine Mr. Jacobi either $20 or $25 and would announce the amount this morning, but later instructed the clerk to make the entry $20 fine and the costs. There was no argument in the case. The following is the answer of Mr. Jacobi as filed in court yesterday afternoon:

"State of North Carolina, Superior Court, New Hanover County.

In Re Joseph N. Jacobi.

"Joseph N. Jacobi, the respondent herein, who was directed by a warrant issued by this Honorable Court, to appear before said court and show cause, if any he has, why he should not be attached and punished for contempt, for that he hindered and obstructed one, J. W. Smith, a deputy sheriff of the said county of New Hanover, in reply to the said rule so served on him, respectfully answers that he did not wilfully nor intentionally, nor did he obstruct said Smith nor prevent said Smith in serving the subpoena mentioned in the affidavit of the said Smith in this case, and he respectfully submits that the true facts connected with the said charge against him, are practically in all essential details, as follows, to-wit:

"That on Saturday afternoon, January 28th, 1911, about the hour of 4 o'clock, while your respondent, together with his brother, Marcus W. Jacobi and one, D. W. Davis, were engaged in private matters, in the private office of N. Jacobi Hardware Company, which is near the rear of the store building of said company, their conversation was rudely interrupted by the entrance unannounced, and without knocking, of one, who was unknown to your respondent, but who, he has since been informed was one J. W. Smith, a deputy sheriff, who pushed himself in the midst of the gentlemen so engaged in said office and without making known his authority or official position, and approached Mr. Marcus Jacobi, the officer then said, "This is Mr. Marcus Jacobi," and looking at a list he had, said it was Mr. Joseph Jacobi he wanted, and then summoned Mr. J. N. Jacobi, your respondent, to attend court as a juror on February 1st, 1911; your respondent then noted on a piece of paper on his desk the fact and the date his attendance was required. Your respondent further says that he was justly incensed by the manner of the intrusion of said officer into his private office, which was marked "private" on the outside, and your respondent then said to said Smith that he thought it a darned shame (and not a damned shame), that these runners had taken four jurors out of his store this week; the officer, who was then standing near the door, began in an insolent manner to be argumentative, when your respondent told him he could now go out of the office and leave them alone; that to this point in said conversation, the said officer had made no mention that he had a subpoena for Davis, but after the said respondent had told said officer to leave, he, the said officer, remarked that he also had a subpoena for Davis, without mentioning his name or initials; that immediately the officer went out of said office slamming the door violently; that the said officer did not ask if Davis was present, or in said store, nor did he ask your respondent, or anyone in his presence, to show him Davis or assist him in finding the said Davis, and that your respondent made no remark whatsoever to the said officer, after he announced that he had a summons or subpoena for the said Davis.

"Your respondent further answering said rule says, that he has always respected the authority of the courts, and in this instance did not whatsoever, in any manner, interfere, or attempt to interfere, with the said officer in the discharge of his said duties, and such remarks that he made to said officer were directed to his rude, and as your respondent felt, insolent conduct.

"Wherefore your respondent prays that the said rule against him be dismissed and that he be discharged.

Mrs. Everett's Terrible Weakness

A True Picture of the Case of A Pinetown Lady, Who Was Finally Relieved by the Use of Cardui.

Pinetown, N. C.—Mrs. L. V. Everett, of this place, writes: "I cannot tell you how I suffered, for I had so many curious feelings.

I was sick all the time, and I could not do my work.

I was poor, and very weak, and only weighed a hundred pounds.

My back would nearly kill me, and I would often almost die, with my head and other pains.

I could not bear loud talking.

I could not find relief until my husband got me a bottle of Cardui.

Now I weigh 150 pounds, and am strong and well.

I live on a farm and do all of my work, thanks to Cardui.

Although 52, I am well and hearty, and help work in the garden and do the housework for a family of six.

I owe it all to Cardui."

Cardui, the woman's tonic medicine, obtains its results by the power of its unique, specific curative, strengthening ingredients, especially adapted for use in cases of womanly weakness.

RECEIVES CALL TO COLUMBIA

St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Palmetto Capital Want Rev. W. A. Snyder, of Wilmington, as Its Pastor.

Information was received here last night that St. Paul's Lutheran church, of Columbia, S. C., at a church conference Sunday, decided unanimously to extend a call to Rev. W. A. Snyder, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, of this city, as pastor of that church. Wilmingtonians generally will sincerely hope that Mr. Snyder will decline the call and decide to remain as pastor of the church here. The following from yesterday afternoon's Columbia Record regarding the call will be read with interest:

"A unanimous call has been extended by the St. Paul's Lutheran church, of this city, to Rev. W. A. Snyder, of Wilmington, N. C., to take up the work of Rev. J. D. Mauney, who resigned as pastor of St. Paul's on December 18th, last, to accept a call from the St. Andrew's church at Hickory, N. C. The action was taken Sunday by the church in conference, and a committee consisting of Messrs. Arthur H. Kohn and Harvey M. Miller were appointed to extend the call personally to Mr. Snyder.

"The call was entirely unanimous, both from the committee recommending Mr. Snyder and on the part of the congregation, and the usual method of selecting the pastor by ballot was suspended. Rev. Mr. Snyder is highly recommended, and is said to be a young man of scholarly attainments. He has been pastor of St. Paul's church at Wilmington for about seven years, and has been successful especially in work with the young people. He is an able preacher, having command of both the English and German languages."

Grand Theatre.

An announcement which will doubtless interest hundreds of Wilmingtonians, is of the presentation at the Grand of the great Grand Opera, "Il Trovatore," as a motion picture play. There are many who have heard of this great work, but who have not had the chance of seeing it. This film has not as yet been placed before the public, so definite announcement as to date cannot be given yet, but in all probability it will be shown one day this week. There has been special music arranged for this picture and it is sent along with the film. The orchestra has already received the music and Mr. Kneisel is rehearsing it daily so as to present the picture with all the music. The pictures for today are all new and will include four of the newest and finest pictures made. The orchestra has as usual a fine programme, and Mr. Morgan will sing a big comedy success, "Stop! Stop! Stop!" Today's programme is an unusually good one and will be seen by big crowds as usual.

Crystal Palace.

Last night large audiences attended the performances at the Palace. Mr. Leslie Howard and his sister are presenting a neat singing and dancing act, including a short comedy sketch. Their telephone song opening is a novelty that wins much applause. Mr. Howard makes a quick change to "Dago," and sings an Italian character song, which is followed by little Miss Howard's rapid and graceful toe dancing. After rendering several other numbers, the act closes with a Dutch song and wooden shoe dance. "Marvelous Ed," the one-legged hand balancer, is making a hit, as is also Miss RaMond in her own composition "The Searchlight Girl," and other musical numbers. The pictures for today include two feature playlets, "Under Changing Skies," and "Love and Law."

At the Bijou Today.

The Bijou offers a very attractive programme today. "The Poor Sick Men," showing their disastrous scheme to fool the women folks, an excellent Biograph subject, will feature the bill. "An American Count," is also a splendid picture and will please, while "Buddy," is a story of human impulse replete with delicate touches of nature.

Another Flim-Flam Game.

Mr. W. K. Gaylor, No. 314 North Fourth street, was the victim of another pressing club fakir on Saturday when a white boy, about 15 years old, called at his home and told his sister that Mr. Gaylor had asked that his clothes be sent for. Mr. Gaylor's best suit, a blue serge, tailor-made garment, was given the boy and he departed with it for regions unknown. A call at the pressing clubs and pawn shops in the city yesterday disclosed no trace of the clothing. The theft has been reported to the police station and Mr. Gaylor would thank anyone for any information leading to the recovery of his loss." The suit bears the name of the tailor, "P. J. Hoey, Narragansett Pier, R. I."

WHAT ARE YOU DOING For the Old People?

It may be your father, your mother, your grandfather or your grandmother who is very dear to you, but it is sad to see them lose their interest in life because their strength is fast ebbing away and they seem doomed to the weak, feeble and decrepit condition of the aged.

Now is the time for you to come to their assistance.

Call at our store and get a bottle of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, and see what a change it will make in your dear ones.

A case is recorded in Litchfield, Ill., of a man 72 years of age who seemed to be getting old and feeble, suffered from indigestion and a nervous trouble. His druggist asked him to try Vinol at his risk. He did and says he is better and feels younger than he has for fifteen years.

We wish every feeble aged person would try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not give perfect satisfaction. Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

COTTON MARKET RULED STEADY

One Point Lower to Four Points Higher—New Crop Relatively Firm—A Decline in the Early Trading.

New York, Jan. 30.—The cotton market was very quiet today, but ruled steady after an early decline and closed steady net one point lower to four points higher; with the new crop relatively firm. The opening was barely steady with January unchanged and other months from five to six points lower in response to disappointing cables.

There was some local selling and scattering liquidation as a result of less favorable Manchester advices and private cables from Liverpool attributing the decline there to easier southern spot offerings and right after the opening active positions sold off a point or two. Around 14.86 for May, however there was enough trade buying to absorb offerings and later the market ruled generally steady on bullish private crop advices from the South, more optimistic reports of the domestic trade situation and private advices from the Southwest claiming that high winds and warm weather were aggravating the drought situation, and that the mild Winter had been good for the boll weevil. The best prices of the day were reached in the late trading as early advices from Southern spot markets reporting officially to the exchange did not confirm the Liverpool reports of easier offerings, and the close was within a point or two of the top. Exports continued full exceeding the day's port receipts, and the big estimates for tomorrow's receipts at New Orleans and Galveston were attributed by the local bulls to the rush of cotton to fill out end of January commitments. Southern spot markets as officially reported were generally unchanged.

It was rumorded during the day that both Southern and Foreign spot buyers were in the local market looking over the stock here and a clearance of about 6,000 bales from New York was included in the day's exports. So far for the season exports have been 5,377,719 bales against 4,168,308 last year.

Receipts at the ports today 21,792 bales against 43,197 last week and 20,221 last year. For the week 180,000 bales against 215,265 last week and 76,808 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 3,319 against 6,504 last year.

Cotton: Spot closed quiet; middling uplands 14.90; middling gulf 15.15; sales 3,100.

Cotton futures opened steady and closed steady.

BRISK MOVEMENT FOR STOCKS

Late Trading Feature on Market—Gains Well Maintained to Close. Railroads Especially Strong.

New York, Jan. 30.—Trading reflected no well defined trend on the stock exchange today until the afternoon when there was a brisk upward movement. Throughout the remainder of the session the market showed decided strength, with consistent improvement through the list, although at no tim was there any marked degree of activity. Gains were well maintained to the close, which was firm at a level well above the final prices of last week.

Improvement in sentiment as to the general outlook, due in part to the cumulative effect of recent development and as much more to happenings of the day was responsible to some extent for this manifestation of strength. A tendency on the part of professional traders to veer to the long side of the market was reflected in a wider demand for stocks. Railroads were especially strong, and in this connection much emphasis was placed on December reports of a number of the large systems. Their showing encouraged the belief that they had entered upon a more prosperous period.

The Hill and Harriman stocks were particularly strong and active, and Reading, St. Paul, Lehigh Valley and New York Central all responded to the upward movement. United States Steel was under pressure during the morning as were others of the active issues, but recovered later and crossed 79. Copper shares, which for some time have been shrinking in value under the unfavorable influence of trade reports were stronger today, Amalgamated Copper advancing a point. The fertilizers shared—American Agricultural Chemical and Virginia Carolina Chemical—acheved substantial advances to the accompaniment of reports that the potash dispute with Germany was in a way of adjustment. The provision of the proposed reciprocity treaty with Canada which would admit cotton oil to the Dominion, under favorable conditions, was doubtless responsible for a gain of nearly two points in American Cotton Oil.

The feature of the bond market was extensive trading in the new city, 4 1 4-per cent. bonds. Two blocks of $1,000,000 each sold at 1.01 1-8 and 1.01 and there were several other sales of large amounts. The market was firm. Total sales par value $6,353,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales for the day 443,100 shares.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, January 30.—Reciprocity wheat selling at Winnipeg today without limit had a depressing effect on the market here. Assertions were made that Canadian traders loaded themselves with the grain, anticipating a tariff agreement, but found no buyers except at a sacrifice. There was also talk that farmers in this country were taking thorough cognizance of the reciprocity situation, and were preparing to clean out their reserves of wheat. Closing prices showed a net loss of 1@1¼ to 1¾; corn finished ¼@¾ to ½c. down; oats, off ⅜@½c. and provisions at 5c. decline to 15c. advance.

FOREIGN COTTON WEAK.

Market Slowly Advanced in Late Trading—The Features.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Jan. 30.—Liverpool showed unexpected weakness today brought about by rather weaker reports from Manchester. On the opening there appeared supporting orders on the basis of 85 for May and 70 for March, the early offerings were absorbed by the traders on the discovery of this support. After this the market slowly advanced, closing steady at a shade over Saturday, which should cause Liverpool to recover the decline there today on each previous decline to this level the market has quickly rallied to above 15 cents and this recovery is a gain expected by our local trade. October was in better demand on the absence of rain in Texas.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS WATER

The following interesting story of a practical case treated this year evidences again the wonderful curative properties of this famous water:

"While visiting Buffalo Lithia Springs, Va., during the summer of 1910, we saw in consultation with Dr. Benj. K. Hays, the resident physician, Mr. David Elias of Raleigh, who was suffering acutely with a stone in the bladder. We were told by Dr. Hays that this stone had on July 12th, partly entered the urethra and had obstructed the urine, and that he had forced it back into the bladder with a sound.

"By the continuous use of Buffalo Lithia Springs Water, the stone having become sufficiently reduced in size, was passed on August 4th without pain or blood. We both examined the stone and found it to be uric acid in composition, weighing five grains, and honey-combed in appearance. It was evidently in a state of disintegration, and there is every reason to believe that the stone had been many times the size it was when passed.

"Gents:—It affords me great pleasure in certifying that the above statement is true and correct. (Signed) "DAVID ELIAS, Raleigh, N. C."

"Mr. David Elias of Raleigh, came to Buffalo Lithia Springs early in July, 1910, and placed himself under my care. He was suffering acutely from the effect of a stone in the bladder. A few days later the stone partially entered the urethra and being too large to pass, cut off the flow of urine. By passing a sound I pushed the stone back into the bladder. On August 3d, after three weeks of continuous use of Buffalo Lithia Springs Water, the stone was passed without pain or blood. It weighed five grains, and showed unmistakable evidence of disintegration. "BENJ. K. HAYS, Oxford, N. C."

"This is to certify that some weeks ago I attended Mr. David Elias of this city, suffering of Nephritic Colic; that he had several attacks, (severe) and that he went to Buffalo Lithia Springs, Va., to drink of the water, and that he has returned apparently perfectly relieved and seems in excellent condition.

UNIVERSITY DOINGS.

Carolina Athletics—Baseball Prospect Poor—Other Campus Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Jan. 29.—Everybody interested in the success of Carolina athletic teams is delighted at the announcement that Mr. Branch Bocock has signed up to coach the 'Varsity football team next year. Mr. Bocock has coached the V. P. I. team for the last two years and has turned out some great teams up there. He is well acquainted with climatic conditions in the South and is better fitted to handle a team of Southern boys than a Northern coach. He graduated from Georgetown where he also studied law until he received his license.

Rev. B. W. Spillman, Baptist Sunday School evangelist, delivered addresses at the Baptist church last Sunday. He made a strong plea for Sunday School workers to redouble their efforts to keep the Big Boy interested in Sunday School. Mr. Spillman devotes his entire time to Sunday School work among the colleges and universities of the South and East.

The Chapel Hill Y. M. C. A. sent a delegation of ten men including Mr. E. P. Hall, general secretary to the Interstate Convention in Raleigh the last three days of the week just closed. This was as large a delegation as was sent by any college in North and South Carolina. The Chapel Hill Association is in a flourishing condition now. There are 325 men in the Bible study groups and the Mission study groups, which were organized last Spring included 315, and bid fair to reach a still larger figure this year.

Manager E. F. McCulloch has announced the schedule for the baseball team. There are 23 games, 11 of which are to be played in Chapel Hill. Oak Ridge, Wake Forest, Davidson, Guilford, South Carolina, V. P. I., and the University of Virginia, all have arranged games. The second Virginia games will be played in Greensboro and Charlotte April 8th and 10th, and the third game in Charlottesville, April 21st.

AVOID HARSH DRUGS.

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orderlies. These are prompt, soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is ordorless, tasteless and colorless. Combined with other well known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not gripe, purge nor cause nausea. They act without looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons and aged people as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in two size packages, 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 25 cents. Remember you can obtain them only at our store—The Rexall Store. J. Hicks Bunting Drug Company.

throughout the week and will give exhibitions at Camp Columbia. The destroyers will return tomorrow.

McCurdy Enters 100 Mile Race.

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 30.—It was definitely announced here today that McCurdy will be one of the entrants in the 100-mile race over water during the census celebration here commencing February 19. Ely, Post, Ward and Beachy are the other entrants so far, and it is expected that one of the Wright machines now at Augusta will be entered. The race will be from the Tampa aviation grounds down the bay to Fort Dade, thence to Sarasota Bay and return, slightly more than 100 miles. Handsome purses will be hung up.

Started From Key West.

Key West, Fla., Jan. 30.—Six days of anxiety and waiting for a favorable turn in weather conditions ended this morning for J. A. D. McCurdy, the aviator, when the daring young birdman crossed the starting line at 7:32 o'clock on his journey across the Florida straits to Havana, the longest over-water flight yet attempted in the history of aviation.

He passed from the sight of those on this side of the channel within 15 minutes and the next heard of him was that he had been forced to descend in the mater ten miles from Havana by a shortage of oil. McCurdy and his machine were uninjured and were picked up by the torpedo boat destroyer Paulding and taken to Havana. Despite the many disappointments to the public here, McCurdy did not lack for spectators when he started and gave every one who witnessed his flight the sensations they were expecting. When satisfactory reports on the weather had been received the aviator climbed into his Curtis biplane and waved the signal to release him, the aeroplane glided gracefully down the field for 100 feet or more then rose into the air.

After reaching a height of about 500 feet McCurdy turned his machine and circled over the city. The ocean front was lined with cheering thousands as he passed while other thousands filled roofs, open fields and other places of vantage. He then made another circle of the city while flying 1,000 feet in the air and on returning to a point above the aviation field was given the signal to start on his flight to Havana.

Acting on instructions from the Navy Department, Lieut. Commander Sterling, in command of the torpedo destroyer fleet here, has rendered every possible aid to the aviator and seven naval vessels were stationed along the course when McCurdy started. As soon as he was sighted by the crew of a boat, the vessel steamed ahead, but McCurdy, maintaining a speed of nearly sixty miles an hour, soon outstripped them all and it then became a race to see which would reach Havana first.

This afternoon McCurdy's camp here was dismantled and his equipment will be shipped at once to Havana.

GOVERNMENT WINS CASES.

Sweeping Victory Against Texas & Pacific Railroad.

New Orleans, Jan. 30.—The government won a sweeping victory today in a novel test case of the Interstate Commerce act when a jury in the Federal District Court returned a verdict of guilty against the Texas & Pacific railroad on two indictments, embracing five counts. The charges against the railroad were that in the guise of storage charges freight rates in excess of those approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission were made on grain shipments from Missouri and Arkansas points to New Orleans.

The penalty which the court may impose ranges from $1,000 to $20,000 fine on each count.

It is stated that the railroad will be called upon to pay back all such excess charges collected, amounting, according to the government agents, to thousands of dollars.

Solves a Deep Mystery.

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. B. Rader, of Lewisburg, W. Va., "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of both a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheumatism, from which I had been an almost helpless sufferer for ten years. It suited my case as though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters has no equal. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50 cents at R. B. Bellamy's.

BAD BLOOD OFTEN INHERITED

Bad blood does not always come as the result of careless living, or indiscretions; it is a condition frequently inherited. Normal, healthy blood contains millions of tiny red corpuscles, which are the vitalizing and nourishing element of the circulation, their office being to provide every portion of the system with its necessary strength and nutriment. In weak, impure blood these corpuscles are lacking in numbers, and therefore the blood is not able to supply the proper amount of nourishment to the body. Bad blood manifests itself in many ways. With some it takes the form of skin diseases and eruptions, others become bilious and malarious, with sallow complexions, torpid liver, etc. Bad blood produces Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula and like troubles. Nothing is equal to S. S. S. as a remedy for bad blood; it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, possessing not only the qualities to cleanse and purify the blood, but composed of roots, herbs and barks that tone up every part of the system, and assist in the creation of blood nutriment. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Skin Diseases, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Blood Poison and all other blood disorders. S. S. S. makes good blood, and good blood makes good health. Book on the blood free to all.

I am going to vote for it here.

"Of course there is no use to conceal what the condition is. We have got the House after the fourth of March, and we propose to carry out in good faith the promise to revise the tariff, and we are going to do it just as soon as we can.

"Personally, I would like very well to see an extra session of Congress, but there is only one man on the face of the earth who can call an extra session of Congress, and that is the President. If the evening papers are to be believed, he is going to call an extra session, unless he gets his reciprocity treaty with Canada, and I am heartily in favor of that. I wish he would extend its operations so as to take in our sister republics on the South, every one of them in the Western hemisphere."

Representative Fitzgerald, of New York, was first to voice Democratic opposition to the bill.

"There is," he said, "a so-called tariff board today existing in the express violation of law.

"I have a great deal of confidence in Presidents of the United States, but where one of them has gone so far out of his way as to put the most preposterous construction on the language of the Payne-Aldrich tariff act, to justify his appointment of a board in violation of law, I am not willing either to permit him to create a tariff board or by vote to legalize and justify his already illegal action."

Representative Longworth, of Ohio, who introduced a bill for a commission upon which the bill presented today was based, led the long list of speakers on the Republican side.

Representative Harrison in opposition to the measure declared the board would simply involve a useless expenditure of public money.

Representative Shackleford, of Missouri, in opposition to the bill, demanded to know what the present tariff board has done.

"God knows!" he exclaimed, "the President knows, but we don't know."

Representative Clayton, of Alabama, declared that to vote for a tariff board was a Democratic confession of incompetence to frame a tariff bill of its own.

General debate continued for two hours and a half.

Representative Campbell, of Kansas, called out great applause from the Democratic opponents of the measure when he declared he, as a Republican protectionist, favored the tariff board.

"Are you going to vote for reciprocity?" asked a Democrat.

"I am not," replied Mr. Campbell; "I am not going to divide w any one the best market the American farmer has."

Representatives Brantley, of Georgia, Underwood, Alabama; Randall, Texas; Pou, North Carolina, and Gortland, of Missouri, spoke from the Democratic side in favor of the board.

Mr. Brantley declared that accurate information could not possibly embarrass the Democrats. Mr. Underwood said he had opposed a commission, reporting only to the President, but he favored a board, upon which Congress could call for information.

Saved Two Lives.

"Neither my sister nor myself might be living today, if it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery" writes A. D. McDonald, of Fayetteville, N. C., R. F. D. No. 8, "for we both had frightful coughs that no other remedy could help. We were told my sister had consumption. She was very weak and had night sweats but your wonderful medicine completely cured us both. It's the best I ever used or heard of." For sore lungs, coughs, colds, hemorrhage, lagrippe, asthma, hay fever, croup, whooping cough—all bronchial troubles—its supreme. Trial bottle free. 50c. and $1. Guaranteed by R. B. Bellamy.

NO LORIMER VOTE SOON.

Illinois Senator Will Hold Seat in the Senate Throughout Session.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Senators consider it doubtful that a vote of the right of Senator Lorimer, of Illinois, to hold his seat in the Senate will be reached during the present session.

It is a question as to what the result of a vote at this time would be. A careful canvass by senators themselves indicates that there are fifteen senators who have not reached a decision on the law and the facts in the case. The remaining senators are practically evenly divided.

On account of this condition of affairs, neither side is prepared to allow the question to go to a vote.

Joke on the Old Man.

Old man Jones and his son John came to town the other day and sold their hogs. The man they sold to, gave each of them a check on this bank for the proper amount. Now the old man was just a little too wise. "Say," says he, "If it is just the same to you I would rather have the cash," and asked John if he wanted the cash also. John said he had just as soon have the check. John gave the check to his father to keep for him but on his way home the old man lost his pocket book and although they looked high and low it could not be found. The money and check were both lost forever. But say, John came back to the man who gave him the check and the man just gave him another check for the amount and notified this bank that if the old check turned up not to pay it—see? But he wouldn't give the old man some more cash! A CHECK ON THIS BANK IS BETTER THAN CASH.
